PATTERSON LIBRARY

COMPUTER USE

- All public computers are available for one-hour's use per person, free of charge. You may use the computer for more than one hour only if no one is waiting. Advance reservations are not issued.

- Library staff may assist you in getting started, saving or printing; however, they may not teach programs or offer extensive technical assistance.

- If you need to save a file on a public computer, you must save it to a disk or USB stick.

- Printing is available from some public computers. The charge for printing is 25¢ per page. If you choose to use your own paper, the charge will be the same.

- Computers will shut down 15 minutes before closing time, after giving the user a warning. Each user is responsible for saving and/or printing their documents in the time allotted. Computer shut-down is automatic and cannot be delayed.

- The library is not responsible for any lost data or for virus damage to personal equipment.

- The library provides wireless access. The library does not ensure connection to the wireless and is not responsible for any problems with personal equipment.

- Tampering with or disabling the library's computer hardware or software or introducing computer viruses is prohibited.

- Information found on the Internet may not be accurate, complete, or current.

- A responsible person (18 or older) has complete responsibility for their child's (under 10) use of all library computers.

- If you display text or graphics on any computer that may be considered offensive to others, you may be asked to stop using the computer and/or to leave the library premises.

- Computers in the library are to be used for lawful purposes only. Serious or repeated violations of these rules may result in suspension of computer and/or library privileges, or summoning of law enforcement.
